Small Group Questions:

Thinking about this week's teaching, was there a particular point, verse or comment that caught your attention, challenged you, or raised a question?

We often identify with Adam in our fallenness. But being "in Christ" changes that identity. How does this mindset change how we live on a daily basis?

It is easy to celebrate Christ's and our resurrection on Easter. How can keeping your final destination in view change the way you live today?

We are still affected by the damage and sorrow of sin and death in our world. How do these shape our view of this life? And how does remembering that they do not have the final word change our outlook?

How does an increased understanding of the Trinity increase your worship of God?

What would it look like for those in Christ to more readily live in light of their resurrection? How can you do that this week?
